The federal Able Bodied Adults Without Dependents (ABAWD) Time Limit Rule places a limit on how long certain individuals are eligible to participate in SNAP. Those considered “ABAWDs” may only receive SNAP benefits for a total of three full months in the 36-month period that began January 1, 2019, and ends December 31, 2021,* unless they live in a waived area, meet an exemption, or are already meeting work requirements (see reverse).

Who is at risk?

SNAP recipients who:
• are between 18 and 49 years old,
• are not disabled,
• do not have children under 18, and
• are not working at least 20 hours a week.

How community organizations can help:

• Share this fact sheet with other service providers in your community. You can also find a flyer for clients under Additional Resources.

• Use Hunger Solutions New York’s SNAP ABAWD Time Limit Checklist to determine if time limit rules apply (see Additional Resources).

• Provide individuals who are “unfit for work” with Hunger Solutions New York’s sample medical statement form, to be signed by an approved medical professional. (A list of approved medical professionals is provided on the form—see Additional Resources.)

• Ensure exempt individuals contact their SNAP office to provide information about their exempt status and help them gather the needed documentation.

• Ensure individuals subject to work requirements contact their SNAP office to learn how to meet requirements and enroll in qualifying activities.

• Mediate with the SNAP office on behalf of clients wrongly denied benefits under the time limit rule.
